

We are all Unique Activity – Teacher’s Activity Guide

- The class should stand or sit in a circle.
- Going around the circle in turn, pupils should say something which is unique or different about them. This can be anything at all. “I’m the only person in the class who has four brothers”, “I have a birthmark on my face” or “I’m the only pupil who used to live in Manchester”, “I’m the only person with red curly hair”.
- The teacher can start this activity by introducing something about themselves which is unique.
